GOV. WILLIS' POLICY IS HANDS OFF

In Regard to Proposed Re-consideration of The Gallagher Bill

TO AMEND THE OHIO RUN OF MINE LAW.

CONFERRING WITH MINERS

After Which Decision Was Announced—Ohio Executive Vetoed One Bill and Signed Six—Bill Regulating Moving Picture Censors—Legislative and Executive Activities.

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM.
Columbus, April 19.—Governor Willis will maintain a strict "hands off" policy in regard to the proposed reconsideration by the house this week of the vote by which one Gallagher bill to amend the mine run law was defeated last week, it was said in the governor's office today. This report was circulated after the governor had conferred with officials of the United Mine Workers of Ohio. They were John Moore, president; Lee Hall, vice president, and G. W. Savage, secretary-treasurer.

The miners' officials followed the example of coal operators' representatives, three of whom held a long conference with the governor Saturday to discuss the Gallagher bill, which virtually repeals the anti-screen act. The miners' representatives today told the governor they want the anti-screen law given further trial. They declared the eastern Ohio mine owners could operate profitably on the scale of 47 cents now being paid by operators of other Ohio coal fields.

Governor Willis today vetoed one bill and signed four others. He sent the measure of Representative Baker of Muskingum providing for exemption from taxation of all charitable institutions, back to the assembly with word that its language was ambiguous. The measures signed are: The Pink bill, authorizing bond issue by city of Cincinnati for reconstruction of the Cincinnati Southern railway bridge; the Collins bill, exempting salvage automobiles from necessity of being licensed; two Wickline bills, one providing for creation of county park commission, and the other regulating the process for changing the courses of ditches or streams.

Appeal from the orders of the state board of moving picture censors to a board of 10 laymen appointed by the governor to serve without pay, is provided in a bill to be introduced in the senate soon, it was discovered today. Six of the proposed appeals body would be men and four women. They would meet in Columbus monthly to hear appeals of film manufacturers or exhibitors who might be dissatisfied with the censor boards' orders, and their expenses would be paid by the state.

Agents for film manufacturers who supported Senator Myers' bill to repeal the present censorship law said today they have abandoned hope of passing the measure which still is in the senate judiciary committee. They declared the new bill probably would be presented this week.

Saturday, May 1, was the date set

Roosevelt Is Sued For $50,000 Libel; Trial Draws Great Crowd

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM.
Syracuse, N. Y., April 19.—The prospect of witnessing the opening of the trial of the $50,000 libel suit brought by William Barnes against Theodore Roosevelt drew a great crowd to the courthouse here today. Before even the first of the special panel of 75 talesmen appeared, it had become known in Syracuse that after the lawyers, talesmen and reporters had been seated less than fifty spectators could be accommodated. Consequently those most anxious to secure seats in the courtroom appeared early.

Mr. Barnes upon his arrival here last night had a conference with his attorneys in a hotel. Colonel Roosevelt spent the night at the home of his friend, Horace Wilkinson.

The most elaborate preparations were made to handle the crowd at the courthouse. The courtroom itself was practically isolated from the rest of the building by boarding up the corridors approaching it. In these partitions small doors have been cut. About fifty deputy sheriffs and po-

RODE IN A SPECIAL CAR

Which No One Was Allowed to Enter While En Route—Men Were Cheerful and Stood the Trip Well—Prisoners Were Served Lunch and Coffee at Kansas City.

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM.
Leavenworth, Kas., April 19.—The special car carrying Mayor Donn M. Roberts and fourteen others convicted in the Terre Haute election conspiracy cases, arrived at the United States penitentiary at 10:30 o'clock this morning. The trip to prison began at Indianapolis at 1:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

There was a momentary delay as Warden Thomas W. Morgan and other prison officials conferred with the government officers on the train. Then the little procession of convicted men began to descend from the car steps.

As they walked two by two towards the office of the captain of the day watch, they talked among themselves in subdued tones. They appeared cheerful.

Captain J. M. Purcell, acting deputy warden received the prisoners. After their names and addresses and other prison information had been given and their valuables had been placed in separate envelopes, the men went to the office of Dr. A. F. Yole, prison physician, where each submitted to a physical examination. Then they were photographed and their Bertillon measurements and finger prints were recorded.

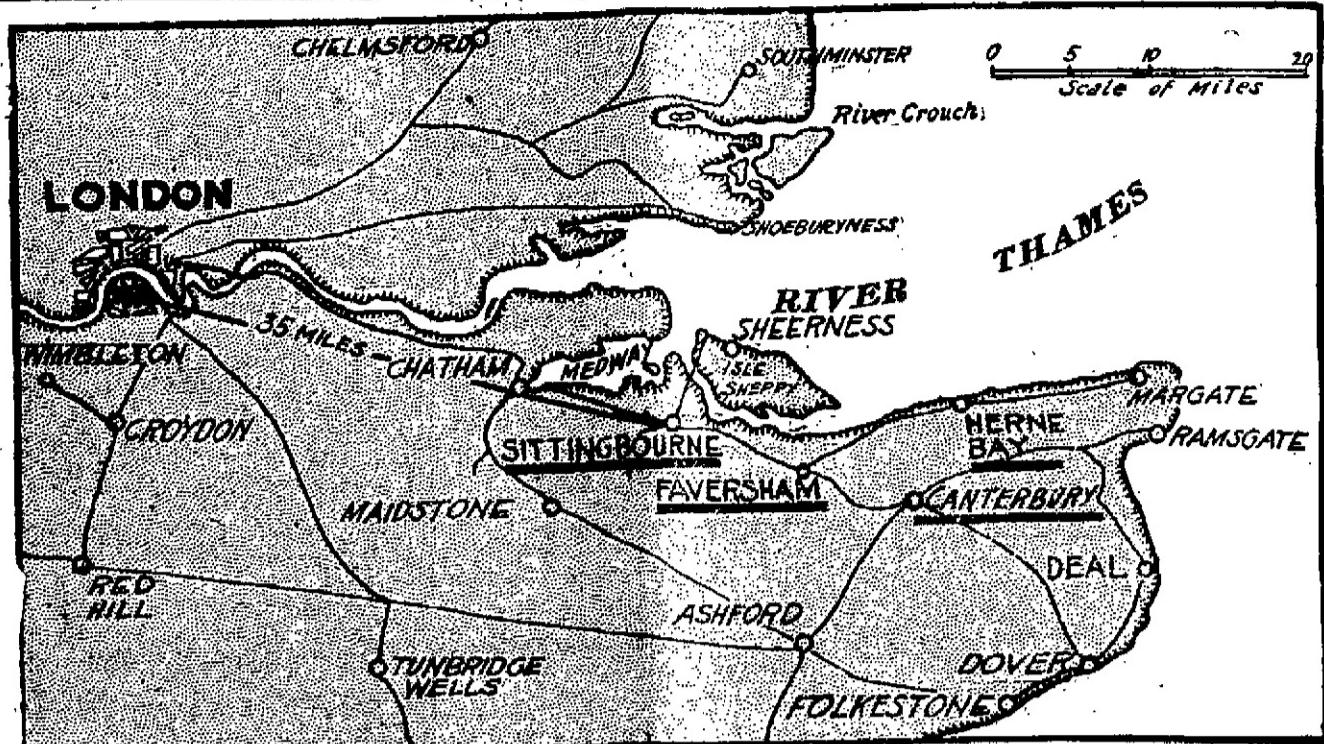

After the "dressing in" process had been completed, Mayor Roberts and his assistants entered the dining room, where they partook of their first meal in prison.

Warden Morgan said it had not been determined what tasks would be assigned the men. Places probably will be found for them as clerks and orderlies. They will begin tomorrow.

NONE ALLOWED TO BOARD SPECIAL CAR.

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM.
Kansas City, Mo., April 19.—The special car carrying Mayor Donn M. Roberts and 14 others convicted in the Terre Haute election conspiracy case arrived here at 7:30 o'clock this morning, enroute to the United States penitentiary at Leavenworth. The party spent one hour in Kansas City and then proceeded to Leavenworth.

No one was permitted to board the cars. When the train carrying the men came into the depot, three cans of steaming coffee were taken to the coach. Then the serving of breakfast began. It consisted of the remains of a "box lunch" which was given each man when the train left Indianapolis. Officials in charge said the convicted men all were cheerful and had stood the journey well.

Towns Attacked In Daylight Raid By German Aeroplanes.

German aeroplanes reaching over towns along the Thames River in broad day light have so frightened the British people that special night watchmen have been sent all over London to watch for their approach. If they come in the night every light in the city will be put out. Guns have been mounted, and every preparation known in the present day against such an attack is said to have been ordered at a special meeting of the cabinet. The raids Friday, April 16, did very little damage, but they caused excitement. The map shows the course of the aeroplanes and the towns near which they dropped explosives. They were sighted at Deal, about noon they appeared over Herne Bay, and they went on to Canterbury, about fifty miles from London. Within a few minutes they were reported over Canterbury, closer to the capital, and very soon afterward they appeared over Faversham and then over Sittingbourne, not more than thirty miles away, dropping bombs on each town. So far as known the damage done by the bombs was negligible.

Leo Frank Loses Fight for Freedom In The United States Supreme Court, Which Denies Writ of Habeas Corpus

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM.
Washington, April 19.—The supreme court of the United States today decided against Leo M. Frank in his habeas corpus case.

Justice Pitney delivered the opinion of the court. He concluded by saying:

"In all the proceedings in the courts of Georgia, the fullest right and opportunity to be heard, according to the established modes of procedure have been accorded to him."

"In the opinion of this court," said Justice Pitney, "he is not shown to have been deprived of any right guaranteed to him by the Fourteenth Amendment, or any other provision of the constitution or laws of the United States; on the contrary, he has been convicted and is now held in custody under due process of law within the meaning of the constitution."

It is believed that only the state pardon officials of Georgia can now pardon Frank from the death penalty for his conviction of the murder of Mary Phagan, a factory girl. The supreme court's action today seemingly exhausts every possible resort to the courts.

Justice Holmes delivered a dissenting opinion in which Justice Hughes concurred.

Leo M. Frank's legal fight for life has taken a place among the celebrated cases of recent years. Seven times since his conviction in August, 1913, the lower and supreme courts of the State of Georgia refused to grant a new trial or to set aside the verdict; three times the sentence of death was passed upon him and twice appeals were made to the United States Supreme court, the first being unsuccessful and the second resulting in the decision today.

The murder of fourteen-year-old

Mary Phagan, a factory employee, of Atlanta, Ga., which at first appeared to be of only local importance, eventually developed into a case of nation-wide interest. This was due in large part to the efforts of Frank and his friends to obtain for him a new trial or annulment of the verdict. Added interest in Atlanta was given to the case because of its having been brought into a municipal political controversy, which involved attacks on that city's police and detective department and wrangles among factions in the city administration.

Soon after the trial ended, the case came in for agitation which spread all over the country.

Many Phagan was murdered April 26, 1913, on a Southern holiday in observance of Confederate Memorial Day. Shortly after noon of that day she was seen to enter the pencil factory.

Yeggs Fail to Open Safe In National Biscuit Co.'s Office, East Locust Street

Deserting the place after one charge of nitro-glycerin was discharged, Yeggs who visited the office of the National Biscuit Co. in East Locust street some time Sunday night failed in their effort to open the safe. The big strong box was slightly damaged.

The attempted safe blowing was discovered when Manager Charles Hager visited the office Monday morning. He immediately notified Police Chief Sheridan who made an investigation of the place.

In the office was found a long strand of copper wire, such as is used in wiring for electric bells, a half pint bottle containing a small quantity of nitro-glycerin, and a ball of soap which was left after the safe blowers had stopped up the cracks around the door.

After the arrival of Police Chief Sheridan, the safe was opened and a quantity of the explosive which was not ignited when the charge was set off, poured from the space around the door and made a little pool on the floor. As much as possible of this was taken up and with that found in the bottle it was disposed of by pouring it into the creek.

An examination of the safe developed the fact that several small pieces were blown from the framework around the door but not of enough consequence to impair the usefulness of the safe. On the end of the strand of wire found in the place, was portion of the detonating cap which was exploded by current from a dry battery, which was also found in the place.

Police Chief Sheridan is of the opinion that the work was done by professionals but that through some mistake they over estimated the amount of "soup" necessary to force the doors. It is thought that too large a charge was used and that all the explosive was not set off.

That the safe blowers left hurriedly is indicated by the fact that they left much of their stuff in the place.

The sound of the explosion was not heard by any one in the neighborhood, though engineers and watchmen are on duty all night at the plant of the Consumers Brewing company, less than a half square west of the scene of the burglary and safe blowing. It is the belief of the officers that the charge was exploded while a train was passing the place just a short distance away. There is no view to the identity of the thieves.

Monday employees of the office were busy removing particles of soap from the walls where it was blown by the explosion. Nothing else in the office was disturbed.

FRENCH REPORT SUCCESSES IN WESTERN AREA

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM.
Paris, via London, April 19.—The French war office this afternoon gave out a report on the progress of hostilities which reads:

"British troops yesterday captured in Belgium near Zwartalen, 200 yards from German trenches. These they have retained in spite of several counter attacks.

"We have been successful on both banks of the river Fecht in Alsace and our advance is being pressed forward on the north bank. We have gained possession of the summit of Burgkorpfeld to the southwest of Schleckerwassen, which directly commands the valley. On the south bank in the region of Schaeffersheim we have made notable progress, our troops marching from the south to the north in the direction of the Fecht and Metzeral, which is southwest of Colmar. In this district we made an important gain with the occupation of a series of elevations, the northernmost height of which commands the course of the Fecht in front of Burgkorpfeld.

"In the course of this action we captured a division of mountain artillery, two guns of 74 millimetres calibre and two machine guns.

"The German aeroplanes which were yesterday ejected from minor German positions still occupied by them in this locality. British attacks along the railroad between Ypres and Comines broke down with very heavy losses to them.

"French attacks against our position at Combres and in the Vosges resulted in failure.

"On the eastern front the situation remains unchanged.

PROSTRATED.*OVER DEATH OF HIS WIFE HEAD OF REUTERS TELEGRAM CO. SUICIDES

Body of Baron Found Sunday Beside a Discharged Revolver, Indicating Mode of Death.

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM.
London, April 19.—Baron Herbert de Reuter, managing director of Reuter's Telegram company, was found dead yesterday at his home near Reigate, Surrey. A discharged revolver was found near his body and the authorities declare there is little doubt he committed suicide.

Baron de Reuter was prostrated by the death of his wife last Thursday. Her body is still in the home, awaiting interment. Their only son is in the army.

Baron Auguste Julius Clemens Herbert de Reuter was born March 16, 1852. He was educated at Harrow, Oxford and Paris.

Baron de Reuter succeeded to the title upon the death in 1899 of his father, who was created a baron of the Duchy of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha in 1871. Royal license for permission to use the title in England was granted in 1891 by Queen Victoria.

The first baron was the founder of Reuter's Telegram company, now one of the leading news gathering organizations of the world. In 1851 when the cable was laid between England and France, the headquarters of the company were transferred to London.

MGR. WREATH WILL ARRIVE HERE TUESDAY

In a letter from Manager Wreath who was in Pittsburgh Saturday on his way to Akron, he states that he will reach Newark some time Tuesday to remain until the opening of the league season. He is spending today in Akron, conferring with President Lawson, league boss, and the other club owners. This afternoon the Buckeye league magnates go into session to adopt a schedule for the season. The meeting opens at the Portage hotel at 2 o'clock.

An effort will be made to adopt a schedule giving each town 54 or 56 playing dates. This would allow the season to open about May 19 and close Labor Day. The late start is popular with club owners and players alike. It does away with the liability of having the earlier games interfered with by cold weather and spring rains.

William Lush, former Cleveland outfielder, now coaching the baseball team of Columbia University, New York, has written a Canton friend asking him to place Lush's application for a franchise in the new league. Lush is evidently impressed with the idea that the league will be a success and is anxious to have charge of a team in the new circuit. With all the franchises disposed of it is not likely that Lush will succeed in getting in the Buckeye circuit unless he can secure the management of one of the teams already in the league.

Reports that the Buckeye circuit was to receive aid from the Federal league in the matter of players and the eventual adoption of the league by President Gilmore and Co., are denied by promoters. Lawson does not feel that it is necessary for the Buckeye to affiliate with any major organization. He declares that the country is overrun with good players, and that the various teams will have no trouble in filling up the roster with good men.

President Al. Lawson, of the new Buckeye league, and backer of the Buckeye team in that organization, is receiving scores of letters from players who wish to sign contracts with Akron. Lawson's first act will be to appoint a player-manager, and following that the team will be selected from the applications on hand. Lawson is an experienced baseball man, and it is not likely that he will bring in a big horde of players and then be forced to release them.

The schedule committee is busy at work, and will be ready to submit its finding to the directors within the next few days. About 110 games are to be played by each team in the league, which takes in Akron, Canton, Marion, Findlay, Newark and Lima. The holiday dates will be equally divided.

Special stress will be made to see that each club stays within the salary limit of $1,000 a month. President Lawson is convinced that high salaries and long seasons cause the death of many minor leagues, and he is determined to avoid that here.

Two pennants are to be contested for during the season, a new idea in minor league baseball, and one which should add to the interest from the fans' standpoint.

RID STOMACH OF GASES, SOURNESS, AND INDIGESTION

You don't want a slow remedy when your stomach is bad—or an uncertain one—or a harmful one—your stomach is too valuable, you mustn't injure it with drastic drugs.

Papa's Diapepsin is noted for its speed in giving relief, its harmlessness; its certain unailing action in regulating sick, sour, gassy stomachs. Its millions of cures in indigestion, dyspepsia, gastritis and other stomach trouble has made it famous the world over.

Keep this perfect stomach doctor in your home—keep it handy—get a large fifty-cent case from any drug store and then if anyone should eat something which doesn't agree with them, if what they eat lays like lead, ferments and sours and forms gas, causes headache, dizziness and nausea; eruptions of acid and undigested food—remember as soon as Papa's Diapepsin comes in contact with the stomach all such distress vanishes. Its promptness, certainty and ease in overcoming the worst stomach disorders is a revelation to those who try it.

SOAP IS BAD FOR THE HAIR

Soap should be used very sparingly, if at all, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mulsified cocoanut oil (which is pure and greaseless), is cheaper and better than soap or anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonsful will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly and it leaves the scalp soft, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulsified cocoanut oil at any pharmacy, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

URGED BY FORMER PREMIER TO DECLARE HERSELF ON WAR ISSUE

Address Cheered Enthusiastically by Hearers—Triple Understanding Recalled.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM] Madrid, Via Paris, April 19.—"Silence at present is a crime for if we wait until the moment of victory to show our sympathy for the victor it is probable we shall be too late," was the assertion made by Count Alvaro de Romanones, former premier of Spain, in speaking yesterday to a large audience at Palma, capital of the Balearic Isles. He pointed out that Spain's foreign policy since the Cartagena agreement in 1907 has been more and more favorable to the triple entente.

"The present hours are so grave and important," said the former premier, "that it is necessary for Spain to make a solemn declaration. Without violating our neutrality, we must say who among the belligerents we consider our friends."

Count Romanones' address was enthusiastically cheered by his hearers.

The Cartagena agreement was a triple understanding reached between Great Britain, France and Spain, following a visit of the late King Edward of Cartagena in 1907.

STILL WORKING TO RAISE SUBMARINE

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM] Honolulu, April 19.—Work has been going on continuously preparatory to the first effort to raise the sunken submarine F-4 by direct lift. It was expected this effort would be made today. Four lines are now fast to the bulk, connecting it with two scow pontoons. Dredges and barges engaged in the preliminary work have been towed away, leaving the space above the submarine clear for lifting operations. The United States tug Alert is standing by the pontoons.

GERMAN GENERAL DEAD. [ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM] Amsterdam, April 19.—Via London.—Telegrams received here from Berlin announce the death of General Field Marshal Oskar von Lindequist. Born in 1838. Field Marshal von Lindequist has had an active military career. He was lieutenant at the age of 19, took part in the Danish campaign of 1864, was in the war against Austria in 1866 and in the war of 1870 he was present at Sedan and during the siege of Paris.

CREATORE'S WIFE DEAD. [ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM] Sacramento, Calif., April 19.—Mrs. Creatore, wife of the Italian bandmaster of that name, died here last night, following a paralytic stroke. Mrs. Creatore was a sister-in-law of Adelina Patti, the famous singer.

MISSIONARY REPORTS. New York, April 19.—Contributions from churches in the great wheat belts of the west have saved the financial situation for nine of the Protestant missionary societies of America, according to an analysis of their recent annual reports, made public today.

RESULTS TELL

There Can Be No Doubt About the Results in Newark.

Results tell the tale. All doubt is removed.

The testimony of a Newark citizen can be easily investigated.

What better proof can be had?

J. R. Kellenberger, carpenter, 18 Western Ave., Newark, says: "I had kidney trouble and inflammation of the bladder for several years, which caused a lot of misery. In the winter months the kidney action was too free and I had to arise often in the night to pass the kidney secretions. My rest was broken. Some days while at work I was annoyed by the secretions and was made miserable by pains across my loins, especially if I lifted. Doan's Kidney Pills, which I got at Collins' Drug Store, did me a great deal of good. They regulated the passages of the kidney secretions and strengthened my back."

Price 5¢, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Kellenberger had. Foster Milburn Co., Prop., Buffalo, N. Y.

Frank McGuire, Defendant.

On April 5th, 1915, said Justice is said to have issued an order of attachment in the above action for the sum of eleven ($11,000) dollars.

CITY CLEAN-UP REDUCES PERIL OF FIRE LOSS

In his annual report after Newark's first clean-up day Fire Chief Bausch attributed the small fire loss of the year to the fact that rubbish had been removed, rubber hose gas connections discontinued and the damage of fire had been lessened by the proper care of premises.

Safety Director Boyer of Columbus, says that of the 864 fire alarms turned in during 1913, 112 were of unknown origin one-half of the number were caused by an accumulation of trash. They were fires that might have been prevented.

Director Barger is a member of the committee preparing plans for Columbus' clean-up and paint-up campaign, to start April 26. Of the possibility of reducing the fire hazard by maintaining clean premises, Director Barger is very emphatic.

If the Newark council passes the necessary legislation tonight Newark will have a general clean-up within a few days.

BRIGHT OUTLOOK SAY GOLD DUST TWINS FOR ALL

The Gold Dust Twins, those nimble sprites that have won their way into so many households and into the hearts of so many housewives, in addition to their usual occupation of making this a cleaner and brighter world, have started with the fine spirit and commendable enthusiasm upon the work of spreading confidence in the stability of American institutions.

Not satisfied with brightening material things, the Twins propose to make the future bright, and they are going about it in a very direct and practical way.

This new enterprise on the part of the celebrated Twins takes the form of an extensive newspaper advertising campaign by the N. K. Fairbank Company, of Chicago. Gold Dust is manufactured by this company, which has just completed arrangements for extensive advertising in the newspapers in practically every city and town in this country.

Every Gold Dust advertisement will be enlightening. Gold Dust advertising is to be much more general this spring than it has ever been before. In this respect it may be accepted as evidence of the Fairbank Company's conviction that the women of this country are imbued with the desire to continue their progress in good housekeeping.

U. S. MARKET IS NOW ATTRACTING THE AUSTRALIANS

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM] Sydney, Australia, April 19.—State deputy trade commissioner Quinn, who is now in the United States, has reported to Premier Holman that in his opinion there is a most attractive market for Australian products on the Atlantic side of the United States. His investigation has led him to believe that Philadelphia would welcome direct steamship communication with Sydney, because of the heavy wool consumption and he thinks there also is room for the establishment of a direct service to New York.

Mr. Quinn believes Australia could find a very profitable market for raw products and food supplies if they were sent to the great centers of population in the Mississippi valley through New Orleans.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM] Toledo, Ohio, April 19.—Loss of employment prompted Miss Louise Elwing, 18 years old, a pretty machine operator, to end her life yesterday by swallowing poison in the home of George Friedel, 1891 Oakwood avenue, where she boarded.

She was "laid off" by her employer several days ago and became discouraged in her efforts to find new work. Coroner Henzler gave a verdict of suicide from despondency.

GERMANS MAY NOT TAKE OFFENSIVE, ON FRENCH FRONT

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM] Rome, April 18, via Paris, April 19. Official communications received by the Italian cabinet and statements made by Germans in official circles give the impression here that the German general staff has abandoned plans for a general offensive movement on the French front and has decided simply to maintain the defensive. This information has caused a deep impression here because it is believed to signify that Germany has no hope of penetrating further into French territory.

Director Barger is a member of the committee preparing plans for Columbus' clean-up and paint-up campaign, to start April 26. Of the possibility of reducing the fire hazard by maintaining clean premises, Director Barger is very emphatic.

JAPANESE HAVE ESTABLISHED NO BASE IN PACIFIC

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM] Washington, April 19.—Any doubt that may have existed in the minds of administration officials as to the purpose of Japanese operations on Turtle Bay, Lower California, it was believed here today, had been set at rest by the report of Commander Noble Irwin, of the cruiser New Orleans, that there were no indications of any activity except salvage work on the stranded cruiser Asama.

Commander Irwin had been sent to Turtle Bay by the navy department to investigate newspaper reports that the Japanese had established a permanent naval base there. Officials all along had expressed disbelief in the reports that Japan had intended permanent occupation.

The Asama has been aground in Turtle Bay since December and reports had said that the presence of British warships was being used as a cloak for establishing a permanent base.

FOOD SHORTAGE IN HUNGARY IS NOW BEING FELT

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM] Anacapri, Italy, April 18, via Paris, April 19.—Information received from Trieste, (the chief seaport of Hungary) is to the effect that the food shortage there is assuming serious proportions, especially the lack of bread. While the bread which is supplied costs sixteen cents a kilo (2 1/4 pounds), its chief ingredients are potatoes, barley and ground straw with a very little wheat.

BRITISH TRADING ON THE GERMAN BOURSE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM] Berlin, April 17.—Via The Hague and London, April 18.—Unofficial trading on the Bourse continues to show a good demand for navigation shares, which it is understood is due to Hamburg and Bremen buying. Coal and iron stocks are being taken in large blocks and the so-called war issues, namely, arms and ammunition factories, continue on an upward course. German government bonds are in good demand and advancing, foreign exchanges continue moving in Germany's favor and New York rates relaxed further today, but less than yesterday.

This action is in fulfillment of instructions to the attorney general contained in a resolution adopted by the Oregon legislature. He is instructed to ask the supreme court that the 2,074,161 acres of land involved in the suit, is declared forfeited by the Southern Pacific railroad company, of which the Oregon and California railroad company is a subsidiary, be not withdrawn from taxation by restoration to the government domain as reserve lands, but be disposed of for settlement and development under such terms as the court may consider just and equitable.

The court also will be petitioned by the terms of the resolution, in case the lands are declared forfeited to require the Southern Pacific company to pay back taxes on the lands amounting to $466,000, whose payment has been withheld since the decree of forfeiture was rendered in the lower court. The lands now in litigation were granted to the company in consideration of its building a railroad through Oregon, but on condition that the railroad should sell the lands to bona fide settlers at not more than $2.50 an acre.

Town Promotion.

Growth, advance in population and civic advantages, are the dream of every community. The importance of a town is gauged by the outside world by its figures of population. Every progressive man is anxious to see his town grow greater, confident that at the same time it must grow better.

Where so many towns are competing for the same end, many of these hopes must be disappointed. If some places gain, others will remain stationary or lose. If a community remains indifferent to its own advancement, the chances are that it will remain stationary, while its young and enterprising men go elsewhere.

The problem of what practical things can be done to make a town advance in population and prosperity is one vitally important to our own community. How shall we get our share of the splendid advance that has been accomplished so many places, which has multiplied the value of all property and of every solvent business, and secured many public improvements and comforts of living not otherwise to be had?

This question was put recently by a representative of the Advocate to the secretary of a hustling Board of Trade in one of the most progressive cities in the United States.

The questioner expected to have the secretary reel off a long story of organization and machinery, by which new industries were secured, capital subscribed, and factories built.

Instead he was surprised to hear the Board of Trade man reply, that it often seemed to him that the getting of new industries and increases in population were a matter of luck or chance. "You can send your appeals in a thousand directions," he said, "and get nothing. Then in some unexpected way the news of your advantages makes an impression on the thousand and first man, in the quarter where you least expected it, and you land something over if permitted to live."

If we but stop to think of the net result of each deadly swat at this time of year we will be amazed at the fly prevention possibilities that are within our grasp.

A little vigorous fly swatting during the remaining days of April and energetic cleaning up of houses and yards and stables will produce wonderful results. Concerted action will make Newark a flyless town.

Really there are "no flies on Newark." Let's be able to say there are no flies in Newark. Swat the fly.

Many families will celebrate clean up and paint up week by painting the front porch chairs, but few will observe it by painting the garbage barrel that is so visible in the back yard.

Tribute to Lincoln's Memory.

(New York Times.) President Wilson responds to the reverent thought and feeling of the country in ordering the national flag to be displayed at half mast today on all Federal buildings and vessels of the United States and in the foreign embassies, legations, and consulates, as an expression of the profound affection of the American people for the memory of Abraham Lincoln.

some dim consciousness of the fact that the people of that part of the Union had lost their best friend, the friend who would have served them well during the years of trial yet to come, but naturally it was in the North that the blow was most deeply felt, it was there that the mourning was profound and universal. Now one thought pervades the whole political fabric. Reverence for the memory of Lincoln is felt in the South as in the North.

It is most appropriate as an evidence of the complete healing of wounds then open that a President of Southern birth, at the head of an Administration so largely made up of southern men, should have called upon the people of the whole country to pay this tribute to the memory of its great President.

The American Plan.

(Collier's Weekly for April 21.)

The fifteenth anniversary of Lincoln's death found a Virginian in the White House and an ex-Confederate soldier from Louisiana sitting as Chief Justice of the Supreme Court. No voice of sectionalism is anywhere raised to question the honor, integrity, and service of these men. Could anything have seemed more incredible to the grief and bitterness of fifty years ago? Could anything more vividly prove the unity of our nation? Lincoln may not have been "the typical American," but he did live out certain qualities of justice and fair dealing which his countrymen have always responded to in the long run. "Gentle, plain, just, and resolute," in Walt Whitman's immortal words, his spirit is not dead in the land he loved. And the lesson of his life is plain for every people that cares to learn. The oppressed and wrangling races of Austria, the hating cutthroats of the Balkans, the tyrants and victims of Europe all the way from Helgoland to the Golden Horn can have peace whenever they will let other men lead their own lives in honor and in freedom under the law. Despite anything we may say in haste, that nothing else is the American plan, and by it our country will endure.

After a woman has looked over the newspapers and starts down on a shopping expedition, she knows pretty nearly what she wants. She passes the non-advertising store, feeling that if it had wanted her trade or had anything to offer of special interest, it would have told the public about it. She heads for the places that published special offers, believing that a merchant must know an article had good value, or he would not have dared to give the publicity to it.

Swat the Fly.

The time to kill flies is now and the way to rid Newark of this pest is to clean up and remove filth from your premises, thus taking away the flies' breeding places. Swat one fly today and prevent a million later on. The first fly in the house is a harbinger of spring but the welcome he is entitled to is a vigorous swat, because it is also a harbinger of typhoid, tuberculosis and all the bacilli diseases. The single fly that buzzes about the window now will produce thousands and perhaps millions before the summer season is over if permitted to live.

This question was put recently by a representative of the Advocate to the secretary of a hustling Board of Trade in one of the most progressive cities in the United States.

The questioner expected to have the secretary reel off a long story of organization and machinery, by which new industries were secured, capital subscribed, and factories built.

Taste

By EDWARD BRYAN ANDREWS

Two men met. They had not seen each other for 30 years. They had finished school on the same day and had engaged in the same kind of business.

"I have made a fortune and retired," said one. "I have made a failure," said the other. "How did you succeed?" asked the second of the first. "I liked my work," was the answer. "I did not like my work, and therefore failed," said the other.

Learn to like your work. The man who succeeds is the man who likes his work. Taste foretells the outcome of undertaking. Cultivate a taste for your work.

Two other men met after years of separation. One was a leading citizen, respected in his community. The other was a tramp and vagabond. They had entered college together. The one liked to work, and liked the companionship with the brightest minds and pleasant lives. The other disliked his duties, and liked the company of the shirkers and poker players. The one had good taste, the other had bad taste.

Taste reveals character. The world judges what you ate by observing what you like and what you dislike. Your tastes predict your destiny. Cultivate good taste.

Huerta denies that he has any intention of starting a brand-new Mexican revolution and says, "Only a crank would try that." But a Mexican revolution doesn't require even a crank. It seems often to have a self-starter. — Pittsburg Gazette Times.

The Philippines.

A petition is circulating in the Philippines urging the United States to make a solemn declaration that it will not relinquish control of the islands. The authors express a desire for self-government but they want the country to remain under the protection of the American flag.

The movement, we are told, is mainly inspired by the contemplation of what has happened to Belgium—a country "neutralized" just as some people want the Philippines to be. It is particularly stimulated by the present activities of Japan in China. These have brought home, to some Filipinos at least, the important fact that weakness is sure sooner or later to be the object of aggression.—Chicago Herald.

Trash Fires.

(Washington Star.)

Warning has been uttered against the danger of accidents to children in the course of the clean-up work, which will doubtless involve the burning of trash in bonfires on vacant lots during the fortnight of municipal house cleaning. It is undoubtedly true that children, that naturally love to watch fires and to take part in their making, will be attracted to the trash burnings, but it is also to be borne in mind that none of these fires should be started save by adults, and they should be carefully watched throughout the burning. There is no particular risk about a well-tended fire in the open. It is especially important that no fires should be permitted unless under the supervision of some responsible person, who will guard against the burning of children and the spread of the fire to property. Much of the trash accumulated will be burned in this way, but there is no plan to have the city make the scene of promiscuous bonfires for the sake of the clearance of inflammable rubbish.

No Time Limit.

A New York judge has ordered a woman to pronounce in court love letters written to her husband 22 years ago. Bills, in time, become outlawed. Love letters never do. If a man can dodge a creditor a certain number of years, his bill cannot be collected by law. The indebtedness dies a natural death. A love letter never dies. There apparently is no way to destroy them. A house may burn down, but in some manner the old love letters will be saved. It is as though they were made of asbestos. They don't seem to wear out and the ink never fades. A woman can produce a bunch of love letters that she has saved for 20 years and they will be just as good now. The only moral is that it is poor idea to write, provided you are liable to change your mind later.—Zanesville Times Recorder.

Charity.

The idea of kindness being anything but mild and pleasant is something of a paradox. But like many another apparent paradox it becomes less contradictory when viewed from an unconventional angle. Men continue to share their last dollar with an unworthy friend when their families stand in need of the money. In the face of warnings from unorganized charity, women hand out nickels from their doors to unworthy beggars. Misgivings are excused with the plea of an uncontrollably kind heart. But the evil arising from this practice does not end with the person who distributes its kindness indiscriminately. It sets a bad example for others, for one thing. And for another, more important, it contributes to the helplessness of the recipient.—Indianapolis News.

BLOOD WILL TELL

Paris, April 19.—Many young men have been lost in France by the fact that their blood was out of order and impure when they started out in this campaign as soldiers at the front. Many of them never reached the battle line because they were taken sick in camp, due to stomach and bowel troubles, and with blood powerless to resist. Young men and old men in America should be just as watchful of their blood to see that it is pure, that their stomach is acting well and the liver active. It takes lots of vitality, nervous force and strength to win a race. Blood must be pure and good.

Keep the nerves nourished, the heart strong, the head cool, the stomach vigorous, the liver active with a tonic which has stood the test of time and has a wide reputation, such as Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is the world's great Blood Purifier; it enters joints, dissolves the impure deposits and carries them out, as it does all impurities, through the Liver, Bowels, Kidneys and Skin.

If you have indigestion, sluggish liver, backache over the kidneys, nasal or other Catarrh, unsteady nerves or unsightly skin, get Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery today and start at once to replace your impure blood with the kind that puts energy and ambition into you and brings back youth and vigorous action.—Adv.

MOTHER DIES AND YOUNG LAD RUNS AWAY FROM HOME

Daniel Piazz, a seventeen year old lad in short trousers, was picked up by the police on the street last evening and after being kept at the prison over night was turned over to the juvenile court today and placed in the custody of Probation Officer John Dwyer.

When arrested young Piazz was in the company of two other boys, both of age. The youngster claims to have left home at Colgate, Oklahoma, three weeks ago on account of having trouble with his father, who operates the Piazza Hotel. He says that he lost his mother a year ago and up to that time he had never had any trouble but since then things have not been pleasant; that he was waiting table in the dining room and being sick one day informed the chef that he would not be able to attend to his duties. The lad says his father sent him word to either report for duty or leave the house. Being unable to work the boy left. He is a bright little fellow of Austrian descent, speaks the English language fluently, using good grammatical construction and is fully capable of taking care of himself. He has had several exciting adventures since leaving home, having been shot at by police when he and his pals were taken for jail breakers in Kansas City and having successfully eluded railroad policemen along the entire route.

Officer Dwyer telegraphed the boy's father that he was being detained in Newark and that he should forward transportation and the boy would be returned to him. The lad is not anxious to go back, but says if his father wishes him to do so he will return. He would rather go on to Philadelphia where he has relatives, and where he expected to secure a position.

In Milady's Boudoir

BY GWEN SEARS.

The effect of pretty brows and lashes adds a positive charm to a plain woman. One poet compared a woman's eyebrows to "little" feathers. Nothing gives the face such a vacant expression as the lack of arched brows on the human face. Some folks would laugh and say that it is easy to blacken them with a brush or pencil.

Penciling the brows to make them appear thick and dark is unsatisfactory, however, for no matter how artistically the work may be done it will surely show upon close inspection.

And don't neglect the very necessary duty of anointing your head with oil. Vaseline has a way of penetrating to the roots themselves, and helps to refill the little oil sacks which nourish the hair. But in rubbing it on be sure you only take a little vaseline on your fingers at a time, and rub it on the scalp itself, allowing the smallest amount possible to touch the hair itself.

Eyes are supposed to be the "windows of the soul". Whether or not a beautiful pair of eyes really tell soul truths is another matter, but bewildering and mischievous glances shot through a silk eyelash fringe have made history.

Your eyebrows need brushing every day, as well as your hair, although, of course, dust and dirt are washed from them every time you wash your face. However, the blood circulation under the brows needs stimulation, so buy a little doll's toothbrush with stiff bristles and use it several times a day. Be careful not to spread the brows when brushing them, for no woman wants them to grow bushy and wide. Always brush toward the center of the eye brow.

GLASS WORKERS UNION TAKES IN MACHINE WORKERS

THE AUDITORIUM MAY BE LEASED FOR PICTURES

At a meeting of the union of glass bottle blowers held here Sunday changes were made in the rules governing the union by which machine bottle blowers here were taken into the union. At the same time packers employed at the bottle factory were organized and will henceforth be affiliated with organized labor. The bottle blowers' union before the advent of the machines, was one of the strongest labor organizations affiliated with the A. F. of L. Now that the machine bottle blowers are organized, strength is added to the glass workers' union.

Dennis A. Hayes, former Newark man, now president of the international union of glass workers, embracing bottle blowers of the United States and Canada, was present and was instrumental in effecting the agreement by which the organization was made. His work was accomplished without trouble, the new move being approved by the American Bottle company.

The action Sunday makes a new epoch in the organization of the bottle blowers which has been unionized for the past 60 years.

Close to 400 men will be taken into the union by the new arrangement.

Vice President Voil of the industrial union, Arthur Mulliman and Ed Dailey, both of Coshocton, and both members of the Ohio Glass Workers executive committee were present and assisted in the organization.

DUNNE REGARDS CHICAGO STRIKE AS A CALAMITY

Chicago, April 18.—Stoners designed to bring about a settlement of a strike of 14,000 union carpenters were begun here today by the state board of arbitration. The board is meeting at the request of Governor Edward F. Dunne.

"I view the strike as a calamity," Governor Dunne said, after a conference with members of the board. "Chicago and the state of Illinois are just getting a period of prosperity nicely made way when a strike is pushed in the way of a period of good business."

The men are striking for an increase from sixty-five to seventy cents an hour. The employers offered an increase of 2½ cents an hour.

U. S. STEEL IS AGAIN ACTIVE ON EXCHANGE

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM

New York, April 19.—Extensive speculation in stocks was resumed today with this difference, however, that investment issues were most prominent. Union Pacific, St. Paul, Northern Pacific, Canadian Pacific, Atchison, Baltimore & Ohio, New York Central, Reading, Lehigh Valley and other dividend payers rose one to three points in the first hour. United States Steel was again the active feature, its opening dealings representing 7500 shares at 60 to 60 1/4, from which it soon rose a full point over Saturday's close. There was a marked subsidence of the recent spectacular gyrations in war specialties, some of these falling back decidedly, doubtless on heavy profit-taking. Mexican petroleum was the only stock in the special group to make an appreciable advance, gaining 7 1/2 points. Business in the first hour totalled almost 475,000 shares. Bonds were entirely neglected during that period in the general demand for stocks.

Following slight diminution, a fresh outburst of activity occurred in the afternoon, transactions passing the million share mark shortly after one o'clock. Speculation extended to other stocks, Canadian Pacific gaining over 4 points. The Harrimans also rose higher, Southern Pacific being helped by a favorable supreme court decision. Shares of the Gould system also rose materially.

Wall Street.

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM

New York, April 19.—Heavy trading in stocks was renewed today but last week's sensational movements were lacking. U. S. Steel resumed first place.

The most disastrous explosion ever known was at Gravelines in 1654.

as the most active issue, with initial sales of 5,000 shares, as a fraction of last Saturday's high price. Standard Steel rose 3 1/2. New York Central led the railroads with a 2 1/2 point gain. St. Paul, B. and O. New Haven, Union Pacific and Lehigh Valley rose one to two points. Amalgamated Coal and American Locomotive and Black Island were heavy but Amalgamated soon made up its loss. Mexican Petroleum was strongest of the specialties, gaining 1 1/2.

Activity abated somewhat towards midday, but sales in the first two hours were estimated at 800,000 shares. Heavy investment issues made further gains while industrial stocks were offered with greater frequency. Trading in steel continued in enormous volume but the stock failed to hold its rise which was a factor as proof of persistent selling. Standard Oil stocks were the most active, followed by eastern connections. A formidable list of declines included some of last week's conspicuous specialties. New York Airline yielding 9 points. Mexican Petroleum, however, increased its gain over 10 points. Firsts of the New York Central debenture series was the feature of the bond market.

Chicago Grain.

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM

Chicago, April 19.—Active: general buying today carried wheat prices up with a rush. On the bulk, free sales took place but as soon as a break occurred, the demand increased and a sharp rally followed. The market was apparently more liquid but had the advantage of the fact that shipments to Great Britain were reported light and that France and Italy were said to be bidding eagerly for cargoes. After one hour's trade, 20 cents higher, the market had reacted to moderate extent and then promptly advanced.

Trading in corn showed a much larger volume than had recently been the case. Higher prices improved demand and the strength of wheat all helped to lift prices. The opening, which varied from 4 cent to 4 1/2 cent up, was succeeded by some gains with other cereals. Selling pressure was light.

Ascending values for grain and hogs lifted provisions. Demand, though was only fair, was strong.

CLEAN UP, PAINT UP, LIVE UP

The Board of Trade has just received 5000 neat lapel buttons reading "Clean-up—Paint-up—Live-up" for distribution among the people of Newark. Buttons will be sent to the schools within a short time and the children of the city will be asked to join in the spring clean-up of the city. If the city council passes the necessary legislation tonight, as hoped, the Board of Trade will fix the date for "clean-up," will widely advertise the date and endeavor to interest every man, woman and child in the movement.

The Board of Trade, the Business Men's Association, the labor organizations, the Associated Charities and the Federation of Women's clubs have all endorsed the cleaning-up project. It is now up to the city council, and from expressions made by several of the members it is believed that the councilmen will gladly lend their support to the movement.

LEO FRANK

tory in Atlanta, where she had been employed and where she went to obtain wages due her. Her body was found next morning in the basement of the factory, with a cord tied about the neck.

Leo M. Frank, a young Jew, a college graduate and married, whose home had been in Brooklyn, N. Y., was superintendent of the pencil factory. Three days after the murder, Frank was arrested on suspicion and on May 8, Frank and a negro watchman at the factory, New Lee, were held by the coroner for the grand jury's action. Lee subsequently was released. Sixteen days later "Jim" Conley, a negro sweeper at the factory, made a confession to the police in which he accused Frank of having killed the Phagan girl, and declared he had helped dispose of the body. Conley, who was one of the chief witnesses for the state at Frank's trial, was convicted as an accessory after the murder in February, 1913, and sentenced to one year's imprisonment. He began his term last July.

Frank was placed on trial in Superior court, July 28, 1913. Judge L. S. Roan presiding. Judge Roan died March 23, 1915, in New York. A verdict of guilty was returned August 25, Frank being sentenced to death. In his statement to the jury at the close of his trial Frank said he had seen Mary Phagan in his office in the factory, a few minutes before the time the state contended she was murdered; that he paid the girl her wages and that she left the office. The theory of the defense has been that Conley, who was about the building when the girl entered, and who had been drinking, attacked and killed the girl after she left Frank's office.

In October 1915, Frank's attorneys filed a motion for a new trial, alleging 103 errors in admission of testimony and conduct of the trial, and also charging that demonstrations by the crowd within and outside the court room during the trial had interfered with a fair verdict. Judge Roan denied the motion and the Georgia Supreme court affirmed his action February 17, 1914. A motion for rehearing of the appeal was denied by the State Supreme court two weeks later.

An extraordinary motion for a new trial and a motion to set aside the verdict were filed simultaneously in Superior court April 16, 1914. Among the grounds alleged in the motion for new trial was that of newly discovered evidence. The motion to set aside the verdict was based on the ground that Frank's constitutional rights had been violated by the trial court. His attorneys alleged that Frank had not been given a fair trial because of the "spirit of mob violence that pervaded the court room"; and also that his constitutional rights had been violated because Frank and his attorneys had been absent from the court room, without Frank's consent, when the verdict was returned. This absence, it was claimed, was at the request of the presiding judge who was quoted as saying he feared mob violence against Frank and his lawyers if a verdict of acquittal were returned.

The fact that the defendant had been president of the United States and governor of New York was also dwelt upon by the attorney in framing his inquiries.

Under the procedure adopted for the selection of the jurors, Mr. Barnum continued the questioning of talesmen. It was planned to have him examine twelve men and then allow counsel for Mr. Barnes to question them. As the examination proceeded, Mr. Barnum delved deeper into political and legislative matters, asking the talesmen to what extent they had been interested in such affairs.

Once during the questioning, Mr. Barnes, who had changed his seat, swung around in his chair and gazed at Col. Roosevelt for fully two minutes and then swung back to the table again and wrote a memorandum on a pad of paper.

The colonel seemed to be entirely interested in the answers given by the talesmen. He leaned far across the table in front of him so as to catch every word that was said.

Twelve men satisfactory to counsel for Mr. Barnes were selected during the opening session of the trial. The Barnes attorney used up four of their allotted six peremptory challenges before 12 men who were satisfactory were in the jury box.

Colonel Roosevelt's lawyers expect to begin their examination of the prospective jurors at this afternoon's session of court.
